FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 8.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S abhorrence of mur der-in Egypt-and his contention that political assassination demonstrates that a people-in Egppt-is unfit for selfgovernment brings forth a reply from the Manchester, England, Guardian. It cites the international statistics of homicide, with the sad result of showing that the rate per million for the United States is ten or twelve times higher than in any country of Europe. Chicago, with two millions, has as many murders in a year as has India, with three hundred millions. Nor in the matter of political assassinations are our withers unwrung. The Guardian recalls the murder of the governor of Kentucky and of the lieutenant gov ernor of South Carolina, and puts the malicious inquiry: "If you cannot keep order, you must get out, says Mr. Roosevelt. In that case, what nation will take over the government of the United States?" The above is unanswerable. The Guardian could have referred to the steadily increasing number of lynchings, the crimes of nightriders, etc., which are a disgrace to our institutions. In our endeavors to Christianize China, Japan, Korea, India. Africa and other countries, we seem to lose sight of, the fact that our own country, notwithstanding its aim to be foremost among civilized nations, is still an extensive mission field.

A NEW plan for the collection of debts was tested with success in Scranton, Pa., a few days ago. William Jones, a former patron of one of the installment clothing house of that city, was seen passing the store and was invited in to inspect the summer stock by two of the clerks. Accepting, he was asked to step up to the second floor, and there the clerks promptly disrobed him on the ground that the cloths he was wearing belonged to the firm and not to him. inasmuch as he had failed to keep up the weekly payments, as agreed. Jones was left with the alternative of marching to his home clad in summer underclothing or paying the bill. He did not have funds enough to pay but was allowed to use the telephone and get a friend to come to his rescue, whereupon he was allowed to cloth himself and depart.

THE record in detail of the bills and resolutions introduced and acted upon at the late session of Congress is a susprising one. Perhaps the most susprising and significant feature of it is the fact that no less than 6140 private pension bills were passed, the largest number ever put through at any session. If the annual value of each of these pensions is placed at the low figure of $100 this means an addition of $614,000 to the annual pension burden of the country. The explanation of the phenomenon, says the Philadelphia Record, is the approach of a general election and the desperate straits of the republican party. Every pension bill that had even half a leg of apparent merit to stand upon was hustled through in the hope of making said, "and the marvelous showing I a republican vote or two.

DISTURBANCES of the peace by the rowdies of the two races over the Reno fight are as brutal as their cause is absurd. Yet even outside of sporting circles is heard the ridiculous pretension that this was a decision of the question and several thousand dollars. The whether the white or the black race had the better claim to physical superiority. What was decided only is that the colored race possesses a representative who can knock out the white prize fighter so completely that he can no longer appear in the ring. The colored man proved the superior of his white antagonist in brute force and endurance. That is all.

Passenger Rates to Be Advanced. New York, July 8.-Railroad pasenger rates within Ponnsylvania are to be advanced to the figures demanded prior to the taking effect on October 1. 1907, of the state law which limited the rate to two cents a mile. The first company officially to announce the change was the Lehigh Valley Railway which issued a statement this afternoon to that effect.

In explanation it is stated that the ompany is taking advantage of the lecision of the Supreme Court in the case of Reading Railway against Philadelphia county that the law of 1907 is unconstitutional. Tariff schedules. based upon the old passenger rates are now being prepared by the Lehigh Valley and the other roads and it is likely luced by violent exercises or injury, is they will be put into effect about the middle of this month.
